For 48 years, Peace Over Violence has provided critical intervention and prevention services in the Los Angeles community and continues to work every day to build healthy relationships, families and communities.

We are in a time of profound transformation, working towards a world committed to ending violence, disrupting rape culture, and creating spaces for people to bravely seek help, share their experiences, and heal from violence.

2020 is a year of major growth and expansion for us as we plan to move offices and expand our child and family services, even as we continue to meet the ever-changing needs of our community. We ask you to join in this commitment to the wellbeing of children, youth and families and support our visionary work. We believe that strong and healthy families are powerful agents of change in creating a better society for all of us.

An Evening Over Violence is a unique opportunity to celebrate our collective resiliency and unite in our shared vision of a world without violence. Sustain and expand the important transformational work of Peace Over Violence, and contribute to our community's healing by sponsoring strategic programs for unparalleled social, corporate and community impact.

Supporting the work of Peace Over Violence highlights your corporate social responsibility and commitment to empowering your community through philanthropic giving. Your partnership makes it possible for us to support survivors, heal our community, educate and build safer communities for all of us. For our families.

Patti is turning 75!

POV's Executive Director Patti Giggans is celebrating a milestone birthday this year. We are collecting special donations in her honor totaling $75,000 – one thousand dollars for every year of her life! Help us reach our goal by contributing today.

This money will support POV as we move our offices, expand our child, youth and family services, and continue to bravely, fiercely, and diligently meet the ever-changing needs of our community.
